HENNEY PACKARD

• The new body styling of the Incomparable Henney-Packard Ambulance fully justifies the descriptive slogan "The Newest Thing in the World". This new body type is of Henney all-steel construction, and despite the very great change in outward appearance, the interior body dimensions remain practically unchanged, thus insuring ample interior room. The long sweeping lines of this new Ambulance body with curved glass rear quarter windows, which meet the rear door window, and the graceful metal panels just back of the rear side doors, bring an end to every resemblance to panel body styling, also providing much more light in the rear compartment. HENNEY-PACKARD REAR LOADING HEARSE OR COMBINATION

STYLED BY RICHARD ARBIB

HENNEY PACKARD

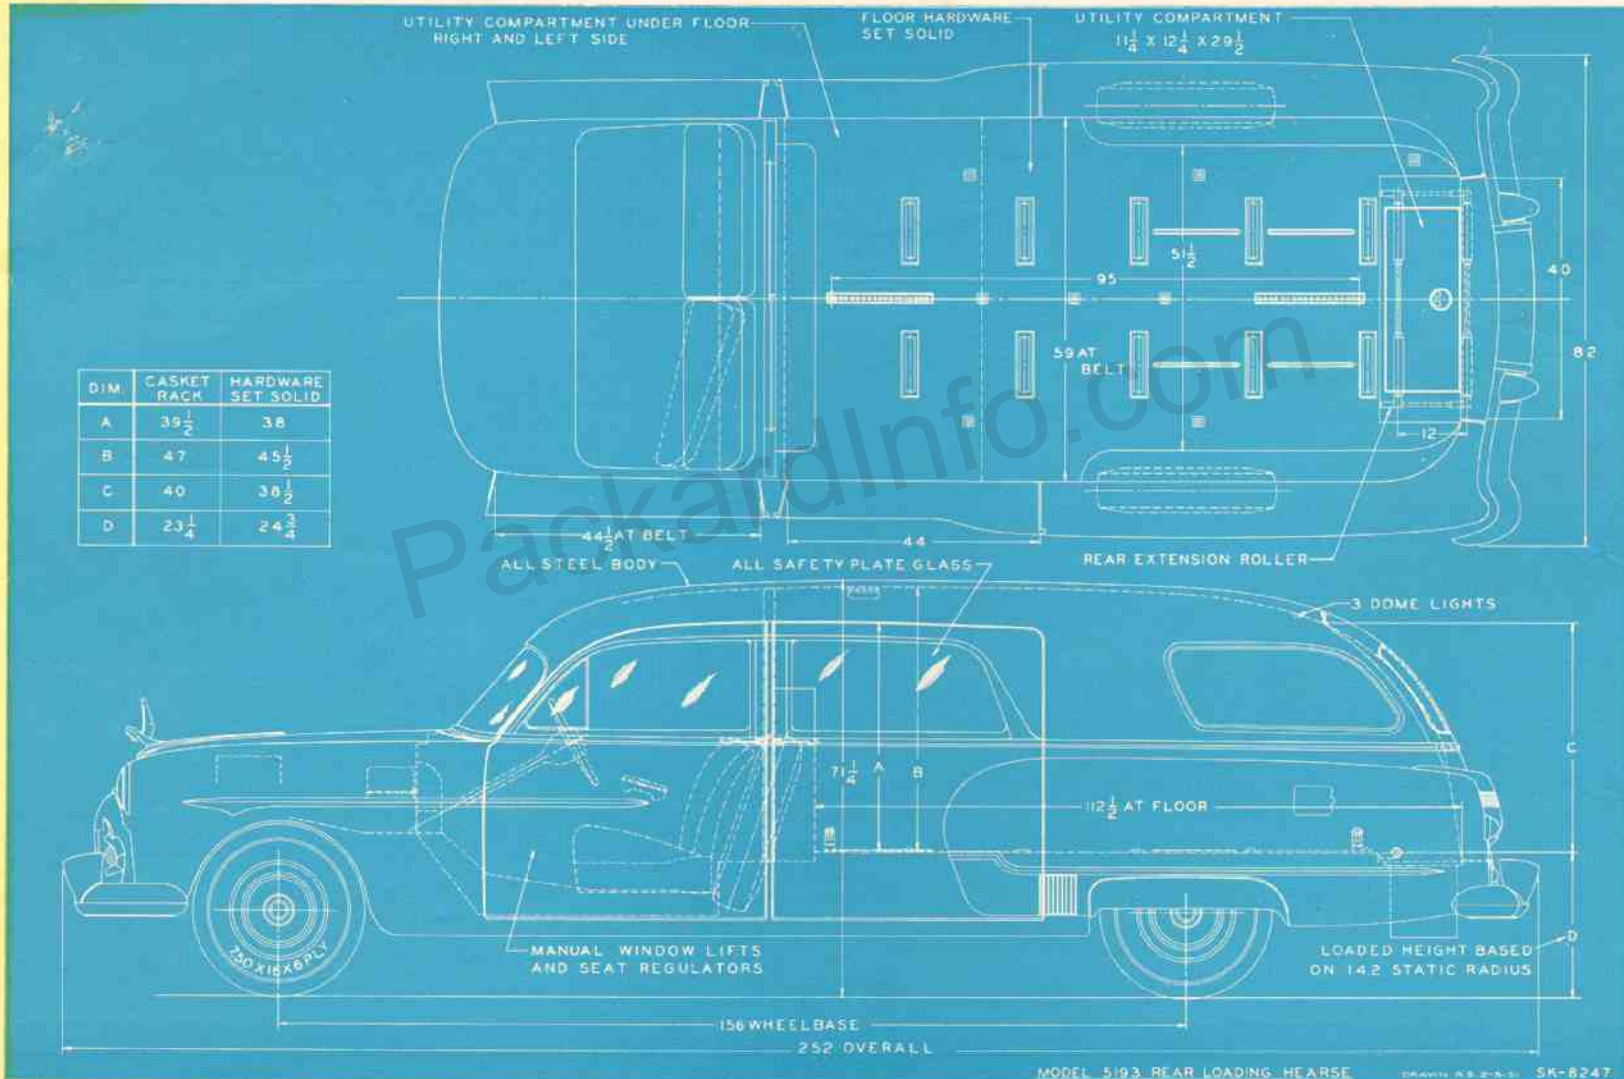

• "New All New", of course applies to the entirely re-styled exterior of Henney Models, and it also applies to interiors which have also been re-styled to produce completely new Models. "New All New", there is "Nothing Newer On Earth".

The rear loading Funeral Car with its sparkling new trim treatments, satin chrome finished Casket Hardware and new styled drape effects, presents a new concept in Funeral Car Beauty.

Every detail of practical convenience and interior appearance has been included in the Combination Models.

Models equipped for Combination use will be available with built-in panel mounted casket hardware, and "Fold-A-Floor" attendants' seats, making conversion for Ambulance service quick and effortless.

There will also be available the removable rack type casket hardware.

• The Incomparable Henney Landaulet body styling follows closely the new styling of the entire Henney-Packard line.
 The gracefully curved body paneling of the rear portion of this Landaulet meets and blends with the massive rear fenders to produce the most pleasing eye effect ever achieved in Landau styling.
 The long chrome plated bow iron, a traditional part of Landaulet styling, has at the door end of this bow, a built-in side light of entirely new design.
 As in all other Henney-Packard Models, this entirely new designing has not materially changed interior body dimensions and provides ample interior space.
