Subject EXCHANGE PRICES OF PACKARD SIX AND PACKARD EIGHT
MOTOR CONNECTING ROD AND BUSHING ASSEMBLIES

Gentlemen:

This letter supersedes and cancels Trade Letter No. T-2449 and all previous letters on this subject.

The construction of the Packard Six and Packard Eight motor connecting rods with regard to the crankshaft bushings is such that very few if any shops are equipped to renew them. To insure a standard Packard job, the Factory will re-babbitt and re-bush rods that are returned for that purpose, providing they are in good condition in other respects.

The following schedule of prices for standard and .015 undersize motor connecting rods and bushing assemblies on an exchange basis has been established, effective only when old rods are in such condition that they can be re-babbitted and re-conditioned to be used again.
